

Moisture Relieves Vapor Lock

Motorists will never see him, nor will they ever hear him, but there's a silent enemy riding with them when they take to the highways in the warm summer season.

The California Highway Patrol says this miscreant is called "vapor lock," a little gremlin who stalls cars when they are forced to slow down during hot weather driving.

COMMISSIONER Bradford M. Critenden points out that vapor lock is most apt to appear when, after driving at normal speeds, a car is slowed down by traffic or grades.

"Denied a cooling breeze and full benefit of the fan, the motor overheats, and gasoline in the fuel line vaporizes to cause bubbles which block the flow of fuel to the carburetor.

"Vapor lock acts as if you had run out of gas or your fuel pump had failed," Critenden stated.

BUT THERE'S a way to solve the problem.

Cool water poured over the sides of the carburetor and on the fuel pump and fuel line, especially close to hot exhaust pipes will eliminate the trouble.

If there is no supply of cool water available, the motorist can dip a handkerchief or rag into the radiator and hold it in the air until it cools. Applied to the fuel pump and fuel line, this may also correct the problem.

More than 8,000 acres of land have been reclaimed by North Korean refugees CARE helped resettle. Contributions to CARE provided farm tools, plows, bullocks, seed and fertilizer, fruit trees, irrigation motors, pumps, pigs and other livestock.

New Hockey Film Now Available

A 25-minute 16 mm. color sound film titled, "Hockey," has been produced by the Los Angeles Blades Hockey Club and is available for group showings, it was announced today by Blade General Manager Jack Geyer.

The film features hockey action with the Blades demonstrating techniques, equipment and other phases of the game. Information concerning the film is available at the Blades' Sports Arena office, RI 8-0341.

HARD TO BELIEVE . . . Fran Ward, wife of Bob Lohbauer in the Chapel Theatre comedy "Send Me No Flowers," listens skeptically to the sales talk of Jim Sena, cemetery lot salesman. The Norman Barasch and Carroll Moore script which will play weekends through June 22 is based on Lohbauer's mistaken belief that he has only a few weeks to live. Reservations are available at the Box Office, FR 2-9636, 4164 Pacific Coast Hwy.

Book Club At Library Wins Fans

"I enjoyed this book very much more than I would have if I didn't know someone who fits the main character exactly."

"I really enjoyed reading this one. It reminded me of a girl I know. I would recommend this book for all teenage girls."

"The plot is excellent. There are two daughters in the story and one seems to have the hobby of collecting all the boys she meets. She soon learns this is not the best thing she could do."

THE BOOK that inspired the above comments by members of the Book Fare Club at the Carson Library, 22102 S. Main St., is "The Beau Collector," by Pauline H. Coleman.

Reading and evaluating teenage books, giving honest opinions about each one read, is the responsibility of each Book Fare Club member.

The Book Fare program is a special service offered by the Los Angeles County Library to young readers of the junior high school age and grade level in most of the 91 libraries in the County Library system. Its purpose is to stimulate appreciation and understanding of literature in readers of that group.

MEMBERS DEPOSIT their written comments in a "Fair Exchange" box kept on the librarian's desk and a record of their reading is made on special forms provided by the library. In making their individual reading selections they have the benefit of booklists prepared every three months under the supervision of the County Library's children's services. The lists include outstanding new titles in the junior high and young adult book collections and frequently some titles from the adult collection.

James Buckley, the Carson librarian, said young teenagers at his library make a "beeline" for the "Fair Exchange" box as soon as they enter the building and that the books the club members praise are the books they are most anxious to read.

COMMENTS ON "The Beau Collector," he said, built up quite a waiting list among the girls and placed author Coleman high on their list of favorite authors.

The Carson Club, which is seeking new members, as many as possible, will hold a recruitment meeting Thursday, June 27, at 2 p.m., in the periodicals room at the library. All young teenagers in the area are invited.

Agajanian Plans New Features

Sanctioned by the United States Auto Club, Saturday night national championship 110 Offy races will start at Ascot Park on June 15, it was announced by promoter J. C. Agajanian.

Events will be held on the quarter-mile track and Agajanian intends to have his Indianapolis winner Parnelli Jones of Torrance on hand soon along with third-place finisher A. J. Foyt and other Indy drivers.

Agajanian will have two race meets each week at Ascot; the AMA motorcycle battles on Friday nights, and the USAC midgets Saturday nights.

The entry list for the 50-lap opener on June 15 includes Bill Cantrell, John Moorhouse, John Tolan, Joe Garson, Bob Coulter, Bob Hogle, Willie Hunziker, Don Hovath, and Jim Devitt.

A recheck in a 10-block area in rural Iran showed that with CARE tools villagers built 11 bathhouses, nine bridges, and nine sanitary toilets. Three villages are installing electricity. In other areas people are building roads and making doors, windows and furniture for their homes, all with the use of CARE tools, part of its Self Help program designed to help needy people help themselves.
